THE speech of Judge Reid on accepting the nomination for Governor from the Republican party of the State is one that can not be passed by in silence. It is, take it altogether, a very bold and defiant declaration by a man of spirit and ability that if he can prevent it, with the aid of his party, the Democrats are not to have a walk over in Tennessee in this year of Queen Victoria Seriously III at Darm-1884. He pledges himself to make a vigorous canvass, and promises to reopen that Pandora's box, the State debt, and that other measure in which the railroads of the State are involved, and to the sup- Changes in the Chinese Ministry-Enport of which, as well as of the fifty-andthree law, the Democratic party is pledged. Eight months have passed since we moved into our palatial Emporium.

The result has been such a grand success we take pleasure in acknowledging it to the generous and appreciative public, who have given us their hearty and liberal support.

The pride that is felt by the people of Memphis in our magnificent enterprise, encouraged us at the outset and assured us of success.

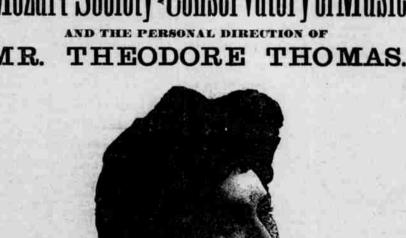

The plan that we introduced of keeping the choicest goods, selling at a small profit, marked in plain figures, and at one price to all, is in use by the great establishments of the world, and our adoption of it has the unqualified indorsement of the entire community.

The thorough system of our thirty departments---thirty complete stores under one roof---coupled with our increased facilities for doing business, enables us to handle larger quantities of goods, and consequently at smaller profits. Judging the future by the present, we feel safe in saying that the other new departments, to be shortly introduced, will meet with the same complete success. Our constant aim will be to maintain the high standard of excellence which has characterized our House for a quarter of a century, and deserve the patronage so
